

1000th School Victory a Benchmark for Comets Past and Present

*By Michael Toon
Carlisle Weekly*

19 First District Championships, 40 Region One Tournament appearances, 6 First Region Championships, 2 All “A” Classic Championships, 52 All Purchase Players and 5 All Purchase Players of the Year.

The above totals are an impressive resume for any school in terms of basketball in the First Region, but for a program that has only existed for 56 years the Carlisle County Comets have staked their claim to being one of the most elite basketball programs in Western Kentucky; regardless of size.

On Saturday that resume expanded even more, as The Carlisle County Comets coasted to an 81-50 win against Community Christian Academy (CCA) and earned the school’s 1,000th victory. To put 1,000 wins in perspective, if you divide 1,000 wins by the years Carlisle County has had a basketball program (56); Carlisle County averages 17.8 wins per season, an unheard of total for a high school that averages nearly 230 students each year.

In the First Region not many schools have attained the lofty number of 1,000 wins and some of those schools have been around since the early 1900s, with Paducah Tilghman and Heath High School coming to mind.

When speaking with Carlisle County Head Coach Brain O’Neill, who has accounted for more than ¼ of the school’s victories (252), he told the Carlisle Weekly that the coaches that came before him set a high bar and a standard of excellence in Carlisle County.

“We have a tradition here that not many small schools have. It was started in the late 50’s with Coach Tom Adkins and continued with Coach Tom Buchanan. Those two coaches were instrumental in laying the foundation and starting that winning tradition. Coach Jimmy Henley and Coach Craynor Slone continued that with state tournament trips as well. Coach Slone put Carlisle on the map in the entire state with the Runner-Up finish in 1983. To this day when people around the state see me with Carlisle County gear on they will ask me about the 1983 team that finished 40-4 and was state runner up. I have been fortunate to play here and then to coach to help carry on that tradition. It is a tradition that will be here long after I am gone as well,” O’Neill stated.

Concerned Citizens Approaches County About Unkempt Property

Kendra Hays

The first February meeting of the Carlisle County Fiscal Court took place on Tuesday February 5, 2013. Carlisle County Judge Executive Greg Terry, Magistrates Lloyd Presson and Burley Mathis, were present as well as Wayne Floyd, Josh Glover, Susan Bailey, Sheriff Steve Perry, County Clerk Michael Toon, were all in presence. After roll call and the Pledge of Allegiance, the minutes from the previous month's meeting were approved, Wayne Floyd gave the ambulance report. There were one hundred thirty eight total calls for the month that the ambulance responded to; three of those calls were air transports. The ambulance service received $18,531.61 in funds for the year so far.

In the Coroner's report, Carlisle County Coroner Steve Freeman was absent from the current meeting. However, it was established that his room at the courthouse has been set up and is ready for use. All of the previous requests for a filing cabinet, and lock have happened.

Carissa Viniard, Emergency Management Director, was absent from the meeting, due to training she was partaking in at Frankfort.

Carlisle County Jailer Ronnie Owens stated there are currently four inmates housed between Ballard and Hickman County Jails.

The road report started with a public hearing to remove parts of County Road 1053 in Cunningham. The motion was made by Magistrate Mathis to enter into a public hearing, seconded by Magistrate Presson. The resolution was passed to remove County Road 1053 in Cunningham.

After the resolution was passed, a representative from Nature Chem, spoke about renewing the contract with the county for weed control. Due to the weather that we had last year, it was not a very impressive factor to the amount of work that was done with the Johnson grass and other weeding areas within the county roads. The representative explained that due to the weather, they were not able to show the extent of the work that they would be able to accomplish, and would like another chance to prove that they are able to do the work they were hired to do. Judge Executive Greg Terry asked the court to approve renewal of the contract to see how this year would go in the forms of weed killing in the county. The motion was made and passed.

$216,017.00 was received in County Road Aid money.

This is the first disbursement for the year.

In the 911 and solid waste report, Josh Glover talked about the site for the spring dumpster. He told the court that he has quotes from Freedom Waste and CWI, and should have a final price estimate by the next meeting. The dumpsters will be placed out for the entire month of April, as part of the County Clean Up.

The next issue at hand was brought to the county by three concerned citizens in the Burkley area. There are three pieces of property that has these citizens, Billy Woods, Fred Knight, and Adam Night. The properties bordering their property has trash as well as old vehicles, commodes, sinks, and other household appliances out in the back yard. The county has taken the actions necessary to ensure the properties have been cleaned up, but the residents have not taken any measurements to do their part. Billy Woods, stated to the county, “I will do what it takes to make sure that this area is cleaned up.” Woods, as well as other community members are not able to sell the properties, borrow money, or take claim to any of the property around the trashed ones, due to the appearance. Woods, as well as Knight would like to be able to stay in the area and keep the houses cleaned up as well.

Greg Terry told the citizens the county had been taking the legal steps on their part to make sure the sites were cleaned up, but now the letters are being ignored and no longer seem like anything is going to be taking place. However, the residents of the properties in question will be given a notice of 30 days to do something about their property or the county will start a cleanup.

The new business started after the citizens thoughts. Carlisle County Clerk Michael Toon asked for $8,000.00 to be borrowed to cover the first pay period of the year. Since, the taxes were paid and then the accounts were cleared out, there was not sufficient funds in the account for the month of February. This was granted by the county.

The transfer of cash on January 24th, from general to DES was in the amount of $1400.00, from general to 911, $6000.00. On February 1, the amount of $1500 was transferred from general to DES. The meeting was adjourned after the records of funds transferred were read.

2013 Kentucky Official Highway Map Now Available

The 2013 Kentucky Official Highway Map is now available across the Commonwealth at rest areas, welcome centers, local convention and tourism offices and all Kentucky State Parks.

As always, the new map contains a wealth of information for motorists. At the same time, its "Only One Kentucky" theme highlights the beauty, natural attractions and features unique to Kentucky:

- The Kentucky Bourbon Trail, which explores the rich tradition and heritage of "America's Official Native Spirit."

- Eastern Kentucky's Red River Gorge Scenic Byway, which takes motorists to one of the nation's special natural areas, offering stone arches, caves, cliffs, ravines and waterfalls.

- The Great River Road in Western Kentucky, which highlights the Mississippi River's pathway of history carrying people, cultures, ideas, art and music along its route.

- The Wilderness Road Heritage Highway, which follows the steps of Daniel Boone and was crucial to settlement of the West. The trail leads motorists to Cumberland Gap National Historic Park, renowned country music venue Renfro Valley and Berea, Kentucky's crafts capital.

- Woodlands Trace, which meanders along a ridge of land between Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley. It is a beautiful drive in rolling terrain with plenty of opportunities to pull off and explore on your own or at developed interpretive facilities.

- The Belle of Louisville, America's last true Mississippi River steamboat still in operation, is also featured on the map along with Lexington's world famous Kentucky Horse Park.

- The Lincoln Heritage Scenic Highway, which explores the history and culture in six communities in the region where Abraham Lincoln was born.

"The Official Kentucky Highway Map is certainly a great aid for planning a trip and finding your way, but it's also much more," Gov. Steve Beshear said. "Our highway map is part of our effort to make a good first impression on the many thousands of people who will visit and travel our Commonwealth in 2013."

The highway map, published annually by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet, is packed with information for the traveling public. The 2013 map reflects many system improvements, such as KY 313 in Hardin and Meade counties; a widened, four-lane U.S. 27 in Garrard County, and the new KY 873 in Clay County, which now accesses the Hal Rogers Parkway from U.S. 421. U.S. sanctioned bike routes are listed on the map along with symbols to indicate limited access parkways and divided highways.

Fifteen inset maps detail Lexington, downtown Lexington, the Louisville area, downtown Louisville, Bowling Green, Owensboro, Henderson, Hopkinsville, Paducah, Elizabethtown-Radcliff, Northern Kentucky, Covington-Newport, downtown Frankfort, Richmond-Berea and Ashland.

The cover of the map features horses and riders cantering along a lake shore of Land Between the Lakes National Recreation Area in Western Kentucky. The back of the map highlights more "Only in Kentucky" features, along with information about Kentucky traffic laws, sharing the road with motorcycles and seat belt safety.

A personal message from Gov. Beshear tells travelers about the improvements that will come about in the Louisville area as a result of the Ohio River Bridges Project. The project, nearing the start of construction, includes new crossings in downtown Louisville and eastern Jefferson County, plus a drastically improved Kennedy Interchange, where Interstates 64, 65 and 71 meet in Louisville.

"The cabinet takes pride in the quality of the Official Kentucky Highway Map," Transportation Secretary Mike Hancock said. "We believe it is an invaluable resource for all motorists but especially for visitors."

"Kentucky has some of the most picturesque scenery in America and it can be found along rural roads and modern highways just about anywhere you travel," Tourism, Arts and Heritage Secretary Marcheta Sparrow said. "The highway map is an excellent way to let travelers know about the special places to visit in Kentucky and how to find them."

Multiple legends identify every type of street and highway, including bicycle routes and scenic byways. They also pinpoint Kentucky State Parks and Resort Parks, colleges and universities, airports and river ports, hospitals, welcome centers and rest areas and Kentucky State Police posts.

Benchmark for Comets Past and Present

So why does a silly game mean so much to a community? Why does half the county lose its population when the Comets go on one of their fabled runs to State Tournament?

The answer is simple, Comet basketball is a part of this community's fabric and everyone who has ever taken part in the process of a basketball season, be it a rare 4-16 year or a magical 40-4 year like 83' knows the hard work, day and day out that it takes to be a Comet and those qualities translate into life.

You will find no coincidence that key leaders in the Carlisle County Community have played basketball, or were a manager on the basketball team or helped the team out in some way, shape or form. You can also look at many of the brave men and women who have served in the military from Carlisle County. Many of those who have Sergeant, Captain or other titles of leadership during their tours of duty, more than likely wore the maroon and gold during their high school years.

Head Coach Brian O'Neill elaborated on that thought," It's not just about winning but about giving everything you have when you step out on the court for practice and for games. I get comments throughout each year about how hard our players play in each game. It doesn't take talent to play hard and that it what I want each player to do. It doesn't matter if they are a star player, a starter, a key reserve, someone that does not get to play a lot, or a manager; the key is that I want them to work as hard as they can and contribute to the team. The hard work will pay off when they continue after high school when they go to college or join the work force. I think over the years we have been able to do that in representing our school and community. It is also shows the younger generations coming up that hard work does pay off and they will get rewarded. It is a tradition we want to carry on," O'Neill said.

Writing Your Life Story

Source: Amy Hosier, UK Extension Specialist in Family Life Education

Released by Sara Bogle Martin, Carlisle County Extension Agent for Family and Consumer Sciences

Memories can be very powerful and remind us of life's ups and downs and times of growth, maturity and happiness. Do you remember what your first job was like? What was the make and model of your first car? How did you feel when you held your first child?

Your special memories may not only be important to you, but they could be important to family and friends as well. Many people wish they knew more about their family history. Writing your life story can help. The account of the series of events and experiences that make you the person you are today can be written, recorded or both.

Life stories include information about family and friends, the different locations and dwellings that you've called home, your education, work, hobbies, spirituality and how you were affected by important world events, such as the end of the Vietnam War or 9/11. Life stories should also include family medical history as this can provide useful information for both you and future generations. Knowing your family medical history can encourage preventative measures and even lead to early detection of certain health problems or disorders.

Documenting and sharing a life story has many mental and social benefits. The process contributes to overall mental healthiness, reinforces a sense of purpose and strengthens family and caregiver relationships. In addition, the legacy of a life story and family history influences future generations.

Writing a life story takes time and careful thought. The University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension publication FCS7-200, "Life Story: What Is It and How Do You Write It?" has a worksheet with sample questions that encourage you to think about significant events and memories. It is available online at <http://www.ca.uky.edu/agc/pubs/fcs7/fcs7200/fcs7200.PDF> or at your local extension office. Photographs, mementos and talking to others can also be helpful tools that jar memories. If you don't feel comfortable writing or recording your life story by yourself, ask a family member, friend or caregiver to help.

For more information on life stories, contact the Carlisle County Cooperative Extension Service. Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

WEEKLY VOICES

SENIOR CITIZENS' SCENE

By Kay Presson

Each weekday, as I eat and visit at the Carlisle County Senior Citizens Center, I am amazed at the knowledge of our history, as recounted by these wonderful folks.

As I worked on the sign, I marveled at this wonderful asset to this entire area, for the assistance, the consideration, and the professionalism of Carlisle County Senior Citizens Center. The sign, I completed Friday, with the assistance of Steve Polivick and Glen Ford.

We have a trip coming up Friday, and I will give a report of it in next week's Carlisle Weekly.

The first of each month, those folks with birthdays are recognized, and a birthday cake is served. Folks, that cake, as well as all the meals, were delicious.

We have many interesting discussions, one of which was how we worked when we were young. Rachel Lemons, David Owens and I discussed how we worked when we were mere kids. I told them of Tony Gill driving a tractor by our home near Cunningham. He was just about nine years old, yet, he drove that tractor like a pro. Tony and his family have a great work ethic, and are representative of the strength of our family farms. I have told him and his wife, Pam, how I remember him driving that tractor.

In conclusion, I would like to thank everyone who participates in the activities at the Carlisle County Senior Citizens Center. Your encouragement is greatly appreciated!

ONE PRESSON'S VIEW

By Kay Presson

Throughout my life, there have been more people who have encouraged me, than those who attempted to discourage me. Kids remember folks who are good to them, as well as folks who are bad to them.

Saturday, I took both my little grand daughters, Xandra and Savannah, with me to Paducah. Rarely do I go anywhere, however, my cousin's widow had passed away, and her visitation was at Milner and Orr Funeral Home in Paducah. Wilma Lee Starks was married to my Mother's nephew, Earnest Earl Starks, and was a wonderful person.

January, 1956, when my Mother was in Riverside Hospital, giving birth to my youngest brother, Rusty Throgmorton, I was eight years old, and was in the fourth grade at Andrew Jackson (now McNabb Elementary). My sister, Annette, was in the second grade, and she and I stayed with Aunt Damar and Uncle Dave where we could walk to school. Wilma Lee visited with us and I remember her as being a wonderful, encouraging woman.

Also, another person who was a great encouragement to me was my Aunt Dora Throgmorton. Aunt Dora passed away Feb. 8, 2006, and as I reflect on her life, I am grateful for the people who have continued to encourage me.

Children do remember the good folks as well as the bad folks in their lives, and I thank God for the good folks like Wilma Lee and Aunt Dora.

MISSISSIPPI NEWS

Last week Bro. Mark and Cindy attended "Shepherding The Shepherd" a special conference for pastors and their wives. They also attended the high school basketball games at Frankfort that Marcus and Carlisle High played in. Carlisle didn't win, but we are proud of them for how they have played. Saturday they attended the Kentucky Wildcats ballgame. They received word Sunday morning that Cindy's Dad, Bro. Wallace Smith had been taken to the hospital. Sunday morning the call to worship was "His Name Is Wonderful" and "He Touched Me" was the choir special. Bro. Jason read from Titus 1-2 and the subject was "God Is Faithful To His Promises". In the absence of Bro. Mark, Bro. Russ Bean read from Romans 10:8-15 and the subject was "Who In Your Life Has Influenced You?" He gave a chance to give examples. Sunday night Bro. Russ read from 1 Corinthians 2:9-and the subject was "Wisdom". Next Sunday, February 3 will be our monthly service at Countryside at 2:00. You are welcome to come out and worship with us. ## FROM THE FATHERS HEART TO YOURS

What Can the Righteous Do
"If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?"
Psalms 11:3

Everything is built on a foundation. It is what holds things up. I have seen that there has been a chipping away at the foundation in three major areas. One is our nation, second is family, and third is the church. Our nation is and always has been the greatest nation on earth. This is true because of God's blessing. From the first the people that came here were in search of a place where they could worship and serve the true and living God of the Bible without hindrance of government control or organized religion. This country was dedicated to God, for the spreading of the gospel of Jesus Christ and it has been the greatest on humanitarian and missionary work in the world. Of recent years there has been an effort to discredit our forefathers and rewrite history in an attempt to take God out of our history and the reason for our being a great nation. Current leadership is pressing toward reducing this nation to a weak third world country that can easily be taken over by more powerful countries.

Then we see the breakdown of the family. In the beginning, God created male and female. On this the family has been established by God. Yet there are those that say God made some people homosexual and they are to marry the same sex and also adopt children to raise them the same way. Children are taught in the schools to disrespect parents and give the school and government the authority over their lives.

Now the church has joined in much of this irresponsibility. So much of the church does not honor the Blood of Jesus Christ nor the word of God neither the Holy Ghost power.

In this world there are two kinds of people. There are complainers and conquerors. Complainers become criticizers to the degree they are filled with bitterness and hardness. They can only see fault and miss out on every good thing God has. When it's time to stand up an fight, complainers can only run away and hide.

Then there are conquerors. The uncompromising righteous. Those unyielding to pressure. Conquerors take action! Conquerors see giants as only another opportunity for God to show His mighty power! So what can the righteous do? We can begin by praying. 2 Chron. 7:14 says, "If my people which are called by my name shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and forgive their sins and heal their land."

There is God's promise! It's not up to the heathen leaders, special interest groups and organizations to fix these problems. It's up to God's people! We should turn from our compromising positions concerning abortion, homosexuality, divorce and turn to the living God in repentance.

We can become Isaiah 58 Christians. We should raise up the foundations of many generations, repair the breach of where we are and what we should be. We can become builders of the old waste places and restorers of paths to dwell in. The unyielding, uncompromising righteous shall again take root downward and bear fruit upward.

The people of God need so very much to cry out for the anointing of God! Scripture tells us of an anointing that will turn the hearts of the fathers to their children and the hearts of the children to their fathers. There is no power on earth that can take the love out of a heart that's been put there by God.

The conquerors can get back to God's word as authority in our lives and in all matters.

We can begin to shine again as the light of the world should: not ashamed; but knowing whom we have believed and are committed to following Him wherever He goes. We the church are to be the pillar and ground of the truth. We must know who we are in Christ and who Christ is in us. Greater is He that is in us than He that is in the world.

Jesus Christ is the foundation of our faith, the church, the family, and the nation. He said He would build His church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. The conquerors need to take what will stand against all the chipping efforts of the enemy and prevail in family and government. If God be for us, who can stand against us?

February 10 – Church Council meeting following evening worship @ 5:00 p.m.
February 17 – Singing at Countryside Nursing Home – 2:00 p.m.
February 17 – Evening worship will be a potluck and music service 5p.m.

This week's inspiration from scripture verses 1 Corinthians 13:1-13: Love is the one thing we all think we know how to do. To love, we must treat people right – do unto others as you would have them do unto you. We shouldn't wait too late to treat people right. The main thing for Christians is to keep the main thing the main thing and that is to love on another. We shouldn't let taking care of the small things in life get in the way of loving one another. What a terrible tragedy it would be to have waited too late. Love sometimes means doing something that is unexpected. In this world of ours today, what could be more unexpected than to be patient and kind? There are many ways to show love that is not expected. We could simply send an unexpected thank you note, write a love note to your spouse, take time to really listen to someone who is experiencing loneliness. We show love by celebrating other's qualities. All of us are different and that is how it should be and we should love them for it. Faith, hope and love abide and the greatest of these is love. Love never fails but sometimes we do. When we do, we miss out on the joy love brings.

MAKE A DIFFERENCE FOR OUR COUNTY'S YOUTH

Farm license plate voluntary $10 donation benefits Kentucky 4-H

Kentucky 4-H is one of the most important and influential youth programs in our state and our county. Across Kentucky nearly 230,000 youth ages 9 to 19 learn about leadership, citizenship and life skills in "learn-by-doing" experiences such as communications and public speaking, through agriculture projects like livestock judging, science projects with robotics, 4-H camp, Teen Conference, and many other 4-H programs and activities.

Here in Carlisle County, 389 youth participated last year in a variety of 4-H programs and activities such as 4-H Camp, Clover College, 4-H Youth Summit, a leadership and citizenship training program for middle school students, 4-H Teen Conference a leadership and citizenship training program for high school students, Jump Into Foods & Fitness, and Truth & Consequences: the Choice Is Yours, a drug abuse prevention program, 4-H Health Rocks, a tobacco and alcohol/drug prevention program, and 4-H Aerospace Camp. These 4-H programs provide opportunities to our youth and train the next generation of leaders for Kentucky's communities.

Many of today's farmers learned valuable lessons while growing up as members of their local 4-H program. Now there is an easy way farmers can help support the local 4-H program that is so valuable to our community, our county and most importantly, our youth.

As you renew your farm license plates at the county clerk's office, please make the voluntary $10 donation, a third of which goes directly to support 4-H programs and activities. I wanted to remind you now about the program since farm license plates are renewed in March.

The farm license plate donation program is supported by Kentucky Commissioner of Agriculture James Comer. The money raised by the program is evenly split between Kentucky 4-H, Kentucky FFA, and Kentucky Proud, which promotes agricultural products raised, grown or processed in Kentucky by Kentuckians.

Last year, the Kentucky 4-H statewide share totaled $121,708.64. The Kentucky 4-H Foundation splits the donations between the county where the funds originated and the 4-H Foundation.

Half of the donations support programs right here in our county, making this a great opportunity for local 4-H councils, clubs and members to increase financial support for their programs. Last year, 14.9% of those purchasing farm tags made the voluntary donation, resulting in a $110 donation to Carlisle County 4-H.

The other half of the donations used by the 4-H Foundation will support state level programs that many of our 4-H members participate in and furthers their positive experiences and opportunities for advanced leadership, citizenship, and life-skills development.

Making your voluntary $10 donation is an excellent opportunity for our agricultural community to support the youth of our community and help fund the programs that can make a lasting difference in their lives. Kentucky 4-H gives Kentucky's young people the chance to participate in constructive, educational and fun activities that teach them the value of hard work, discipline and participation.

Kentucky 4-H youth are doing the right thing by breaking through obstacles while pushing our country, our state and our county forward by making a measurable difference right where they live.

But the program needs more participation. In 2012, more than two-thirds of Kentuckians who bought or renewed farm plates opted out of making a donation. Sadly, some of the lowest rates of participation were in agriculture-dependent rural counties. We can do better.

Kentucky 4-H has been given a tremendous opportunity by Commissioner Comer to raise significant funds to support 4-H. But the scale of this success will be up to all of us in the 4-H family and how we promote and encourage our friends, alumni, and communities to step up and support 4-H through the voluntary donation.

Please remember to make your voluntary $10 donation when renewing your farm license plates in March. It will make a difference in the lives of our youth.

Financial Aid Tip of the Month

Federal student aid programs can help pay college costs

The federal government sponsors numerous financial aid programs that can help students and their parents pay college expenses. This brief summary from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) describes the more common federal grant and loan programs. Grants generally do not have to be repaid, but loans do.

- Federal Pell Grant: Pell Grants provide up to $5,550 per year for undergraduates with financial need.
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant: grants that provide up to $4,000 per year for undergraduate students who have exceptional financial need.

- Federal Perkins Loan: loans for students with exceptional financial need. Undergraduates can get up to $5,500 per year, while graduate students can get up to $8,000 per year.
- Federal Stafford Loan: Stafford Loans are available to undergraduate, graduate and professional students. The amount students may borrow depends on their year in school.
- Federal PLUS Loan: Parents of dependent undergraduate students may qualify for PLUS Loans, depending on the parents' credit ratings. The amount available depends on how much other financial aid the student receives. Graduate students may apply for PLUS Loans if they have exhausted all of their Stafford Loan eligibility. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is used to apply for all of these programs. Families seeking a PLUS Loan must also submit a separate application.

CyberCave Academy Offers College Credit

Amber Harris

Calling all high school junior and senior students interested in technology — CyberCave Academy is back. Applications are being accepted Feb. 1 through May 1 for the 10th summer of Murray State University's (MSU) CyberCave Academy.

For the first time, a student has the opportunity to earn up to three college credit hours at MSU by attending a first-year CyberCave Academy session. Students must be going into their junior or senior year of high school in fall 2013.

CyberCave Academy, a telecommunications technology camp for high school students, will host three weeks of camp this coming summer.

Two camps for first-year students are scheduled for June 9-14 and June 23-28. The second year camp, for returning students, will be July 7-12. The mission of CyberCave is to expose high school students to computer technologies through hands-on, interactive activities.

The camp is sponsored by MSU's Program of Distinction in Telecommunications Systems Management (TSM). It gives high school students the opportunity to explore technology while being introduced to the college atmosphere through residential housing, campus dining and other on-campus functions.

Students attending camp stay on the Murray State campus for five days and are supervised by TSM student counselors as well as TSM staff. Although the majority of the time is spent in the lab, several other activities are planned for the students to enjoy during the week. These activities include movie nights, scavenger hunts around the MSU campus and time at the MSU Recreation and Wellness Center.

Understanding Pay Stubs-Money Tips for Students

When you work, your employer will give you a pay stub when you get paid, even if you use direct deposit. Understanding the information on the pay stub is vital to managing your money and budgeting, according to the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA). Each company's pay stub is different, but all employers must include these items:

- Gross Pay: This is what you earned that pay period before any taxes or benefits, such as insurance, were withheld.
- Net Pay: This is your take-home pay after all the taxes and benefits have been deducted from your gross pay.
- Federal Tax Amount: Federal income tax might be abbreviated as Fed Tax, FT or FWT. This is how much was withheld to pay your federal taxes, based on the W-4 form you filled out when you were hired.

- State Tax: State taxes might be abbreviated as St Tax, STW or simply by the abbreviation of the state in which you reside (for example, KY).
- Local Tax: Some cities, counties or school districts may require you to pay a local tax. You may not have this tax withheld if you don't live or work in an area that assesses these taxes.
- Social Security Tax: Social Security tax might be abbreviated FICA, SS, SSWT or OASDI. The federal government requires that 6.2 percent of your wages be withheld.
- Medicare: Medicare tax might be abbreviated MWT or Med. Like Social Security taxes, the federal government requires that 1.45 percent of your wages be withheld.
- Year-to-date (for pay and deductions): The year-to-date fields show how much you have earned up to that point as well as what has been deducted for each tax or benefit.
